Exchange of information

We exchange personal information with other approved organisations for underwriting and fraud prevention purposes and we may provide such information to others where required or permitted by law.

We will use and analyse your personal information for the following purposes:

- managing and administering products and services that are supplied. In the case of insurance products this will include underwriting reinsurance and claims handling purposes and this may include disclosing it to other insurers, reinsurers, regulatory authorities or to our agents who provide services on our behalf;
- considering any applications for products you may make and to help in making credit-related decisions about you where appropriate;
- servicing other relationships you may have with us;
- financial risk assessment, money laundering checks, compliance and regulatory reporting and fraud prevention; assisting in making decisions on insurance proposals, other products and any claim made by you, members of your household, and others connected with your insurance proposals and claims;
- helping us to understand and develop new and innovative products and services.

Your personal information will only be disclosed to third parties outside of us if:

- it is necessary for the performance of your agreement with us; or
- you have given your consent; or
- such disclosure is required or permitted by law; or
- we are entitled to transfer rights and/or obligations as provided under the terms of any policy you may purchase; or
- any such third party provides benefits or services to you under or in connection with our agreement with you; or
- it is a credit reference agency or fraud prevention agency; and any such third party has agreed to keep your personal information strictly confidential and use it for the purpose for which we provide it to them.

In future the way in which your personal information is viewed, recorded and used may change. In most cases these changes will result from enhancements in technology. Where we believe the changes may be to your disadvantage, we will give you at least 30 days notice of them by posting notice of such an amendment on this website. If you continue to use a product or service for a further 30 days after notification, we will consider that you have consented to that change (unless you write to us to inform us otherwise).

Fraud prevention

In order to prevent fraud we may at any time:

- share personal information about you between us and with other insurers or financial institutions;
- check your details with fraud prevention agencies.

If you give us false or inaccurate information and we suspect fraud, we will record this and pass this information to fraud prevention agencies.

We and other organisations may also search and use fraud prevention and credit reference agency records to:

- help make decisions in connection to insurance proposals, insurance claims and other products for you and members of your household;
- trace debtors, recover debt, prevent fraud and to manage your insurance policies.

Personal information for the purpose of marketing

Unless you have informed us to the contrary, personal information held may be used by us to carry out research and to inform you by letter, telephone or email of other products we believe may interest you. We may also contact you by e-mail or other electronic media to notify you of other products we believe may interest you. We shall only do so however if you have provided your consent to such contact. If you are contacted by such means in future we shall on each occasion ensure you will always be given the option to opt out of any further such communication. If you wish to opt-out from receiving such information or do not consent to such transfer, please write to us at:

Representation by other people

At the request of many of our insurance policyholders and to make the managing your policy more convenient, it is our policy to deal with a policyholder's spouse or partner (if named on the policy where applicable) who calls on your behalf. If you would like someone else to be able to deal with your policy for you on a regular basis please let us know. In some exceptional circumstances we may also deal with other people who call us on your behalf. If at any time you would prefer us to deal only with you, please call to let us know. Please note that we will not reveal any credit or debit card numbers that we hold to anyone other than the policyholder.

Data protection and data transfer

There are no devices or items contained within the code of this site that extract information from your computer other than information required to make a connection and transfer website content between your computer and the TIF host server. TIF will from time to time analyse the number and nature of connections made between external sources and the TIF host server specifically for traffic analysis reporting. None of this information will contain any personal or private information relating to you other than the IP address used to make the connection with our host server and the type of browser used to view the website.

When requesting quotes, purchasing insurance products and services, engaging in online contact or registering on our database all items of information requested will be clearly and unambiguously labelled and will be submitted securely to our host server. Where we are legally obliged to provide information to official bodies such as the Police, the Courts or other insurance companies investigating potentially fraudulent claims your details will be passed on, without notice to you.
